

ABSTRACT

Nucleotides having weaker affinity in base pairing when compared with those of hydrogen bonding in an a/t pair or in a g/c pair are used as spacer nucleotides. Hybridization due to a nucleotide sequence added for labeling is effectively prevented.

[illegible]